Have you left any fields in condition to wash badly during the winter months?
Remember that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Tobacco came in case just in time to get the voters mind off the election.
We have much to be thankful for if we would only count our blessings.

Some of the good women, have been taking the announcement of President Wilson's engagement pretty hard.
Some of them have gone so far as to declare that they never intend to waste any more tears over the sorrow of any widower.

The farms on Stanford pike have been closed to hunters. Law-abiding citizens should report violators of the game laws. The birds placed in this and other territories must be protected for several years if we expect to profit by their being placed here.

When a man complains about the high cost of living, go at him as follows:
"Your dad used to drive a yoke of steers and linkpin wagon; you drive a pair of roadsters hitched to a top buggy; your son drives a six cylinder, forty-horse-power automobile." That explains it.

The farmers of Central Kentucky are said to be holding back their Irish potatoes in anticipation of a rising market, and as a result report that only a limited supply of the crop is coming in. Dealers here are paying fifty cents per bushel for the tubers and claim they are scarce at that.

Paris, after nearly a century of exhibiting and financing a county fair, quits the game on account of its not paying. County Fairs were once the pride of each county, parading before enthusiastic multitudes everything from a pumpkin pie to a race horse, but they are fast fading into pleasant memories.

The death of Booker T. Washington is a national misfortune, for his life was a national benefaction. He stood head and shoulders above any man of his race, and his towering figure for more than a generation was a pillar of fire to light his people out of the darkness of ignorance, indolence and error. — Courier Journal.

The recent showers put tobacco in stripping order and a good deal of the weed was put down. It is hoped there will be good weather for stripping so that the sales may begin in good shape by December 1st. This will enable a good many farmers to meet their Christmas expenses and have something left for their January bills.

Reports are to the effect that rabbits and quail are in average numbers. But don't overlook the fact that there's a difference between the "partridge" as we know Bob White down here, and the English pheasants recently placed in this section. Don't let the gun go off on a Hungarian pheasant as Uncle Dave Ross has the jail full now.

It would be well for hunters or sports men, in addition to informing themselves as to the requirements of the State Game Laws, to get in touch with the Federal restrictions regarding migratory birds. The Department of Agriculture has issued a warning that Federal regulations as amended October 1, 1914, will be enforced this year in regard to all migratory birds.

A critic of the Wilson marriage has been ousted from postal service in Illinois and is unable to get back his job. He said he had expressed himself by saying he thought the President should have waited a year, but says he meant no disrespect. Now our postmaster is a great believer in marriage and has given his hearty approval of the President's step to brighten his lonely life.

WAR PICTURES.

The war pictures at Roman's Opera House Friday night were of more than ordinary interest. The German side of the war was shown to a crowded house.
Mr. Romans is to be commended for bringing on such instructive pictures.
These pictures have been pronounced the best war pictures yet shown in this country. Mr. Romans will show extraordinary pictures Friday and Saturday nights. See them.

SOLD OUT.

Mr. Harry Anderson, who has conducted a splendid furniture business in our town has sold out to Mr. J. F.
Holtzclaw and son, who will hereafter conduct a first class up-to-date furniture store at this stand. In a few weeks the two stores of Messrs. Holtz-claw will be combined and they solicit your patronage and promise to give the best goods at lowest prices.

The transfer of Mr. Anderson's stock was made last Tuesday.

RIGHT, AS USUAL.

"Any man can go through life and not have enemies. All he has to do is to say nothing, be nothing and do nothing," says Luke McLuke, the sage of The Cincinnati Enquirer.

And, as usual, Luke is right. A deaf and dumb man ought to get along without making any enemies, but he would have to be careful about how he acted, at that, or somebody would turn against him. The man without an enemy is ready for the embalming fluid and the black trimmings.

FIXED BY LAW.

The State law fixes both the time for the official canvass of the State vote as well as the inauguration and induction into office of the new Governor.
Twenty days after the election is the time designated for the meeting of the State Election Board, which will issue the certificate of election. This will be November 22. The law stipulates that the new Governor must take the oath and assume his office on the fifth Tuesday after election, and this will fall on December 7. All the rest of the State, district and county officers will be sworn in on the first Monday in January.

COL. WALTON.

Col. W. P. Walton, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State, owner and editor of the Lex-ingtonian, and one of the best known journalists in Kentucky, continues dangerously ill at his home. Acute stomach trouble is his ailment and his physician has ordered him to remain quiet in his home for a month in the hope that a careful diet will improve his condition.
His brother, Ed. C. Walton, of the Stanford Interior Journal, was here yesterday to see the patient and said that while Col. Walton is a very sick man, his family and friends have hopes that the regimen prescribed for him will restore him to his normal vigor—Lexington Leader.

CLEAN UP.

Now that most of the leaves have fallen from the shade trees, and the yards, streets and alleys are "litter-alley" covered with leaves it behooves us all to lookout for fires. A lighted match, carelessly dropped into a bank of leaves may make an expensive conflagration, while a little cleaning up may save us from such a calamity. An hour spent by some member of each family would give this old town and entirely different look, and relieve a very dangerous condition. It is very much easier to fight a fire of leaves in a gutter or on a street than it is to fight it in a frame house after it gets a good start. The best possible disposition of leaves is to put them on the garden for fertilizer, but at any rate get rid of the leaves. Lets all clean up!

NOTICE TO COR-

RESPONDENTS.

We ask our correspondents to have their letters for next weeks issue in by Monday. Following our usual custom we will get out the Record on Wednesday instead of Thursday. This will give our office force a day of rest and plenty of time to digest their turkey.

QUAIL SEASON

OPENED MONDAY.

The season for hunting quail opened Monday. The birds are said to be scarce this year. Hunters must have license before going hunting. The license, however, does not give a man the right to hunt on another's land without first getting the land owner's permission, and there are many land owners who will allow no one under any circumstances to hunt on their farms.

GARRARD COMMENDED

ON ROAD WORK.

The writer accepted the kind invitation of Mr. C. C. Thomas, the genial Secretary of the Board of Commerce to accompany him to Lexington Sunday.
The trip was made by the way of Stanford, Lancaster, Camp Nelson and Nicholasville, and every where along the way was seen the great forward movement in road construction. Garrard county especially is all hustle in her road work, and a finer piece of roadway can hardly be found than on the Boone Highway in that county.— Somerset News.

HUNTING FORBIDDEN

ON STANFORD ROAD.

Hunting is strictly forbidden on the Stanford pike. The pheasants that were placed on the farm of John Farra have paired off and have been seen at different times on other farms and in order to protect them those owning farms along this road have had them posted. These farmers would hate to prosecute anyone seen hunting on their land but they have entered into an agreement to do so. Every real sportsman will recognize the wisdom of protecting these birds and not allowing them to become frightened. Study the law before getting out your gun!

HENRY WELCH DIES

AT LEXINGTON.

Henry Welch, aged 66, died in Lexington at an early hour Wednesday and the remains were brought to Crab Orchard and interred in the cemetery at noon Thursday. Mr. Welch was of this city, and had been in bad health for a long time. Until last summer he had lived in the West, but he came to Stanford then and remained quite a while with his sister. Later he grew worse and was taken to a Lexington infirmary, where he died after a protracted illness.
Mr. Welch was born and reared in the Crab Orchard section and has many friends there and elsewhere who regret that he is no more. He was never married. — Interior Journal.

MORROW CONGRATU-

LATES STANLEY

The Courier Journal of yesterday says: "A cordial handshake, accompanied by an exchange of compliments as to the good race each of them made, featured the first meeting, since the election, of A. O. Stanley and Edwin P. Morrow, the latter of whom was defeated by a narrow margin. The two men met in the lobby of the Seelbach.
Mr. Stanley was in the company of Mrs. Stanley, when Mr. Morrow walked up and shook hands with his opponent.

"You made a great race," he said.
"And so did you," was Mr. Stanley's reply.

"While at the Seelbach, M. H.
Thatcher, appointed Governor of the Canal Zone by President Taft, congratulated Mr. Stanley as the next governor."

WILD RUMOR

ABOUT DANVILLE.

A wild rumor comes from Danville that plans are actually made for a hotel in that townless town and are now being scrutinized by fire insurance authorities. This is sensational if true but we see no reason for the residents of that conservative city to get excited.
If it takes four years to decide on a location and plans for a much needed improvement, it should take many more to erect the building they call for, if pushed along with the same relative speed. It can go up slowly and imperceptibly and thus growing by degrees the good citizens need not have their dignified sense of quiet and respect for the old order of things jarred by any sudden violent change in the landscape.
In the meantime if the stranger suffers within her gates for a place whereon to lay her head, Wilmore can lend her a hotel as Wilmore apparently has more of them than she can conveniently use herself. — Wilmore Enterprise.

GAME AND FISH COMMISSION IS AFTER VIOLATORS OF STATE LAWS

Over Five Hundred Men Convicted For Violations—English Pheasants Liberated By Commission Are Protected For Number of Years

A Kentucky trainer and two of his champion bird dogs.

Frankfort, Ky. (Special).—The Game and Fish Commission since the last report has convicted 551 men for violation of the law. They took the chance of beating the warden. How much better it would have been for them to have taken out their license. They would have had the satisfaction of feeling that they were helping the enforcement of law and contributing to better game conditions and were not cheaters.

The money collected for sale of hunters' license has been, and is being, economically spent for the enforcement of the laws and the restocking of the fields and streams with game and fish.

The Commission is taking this means of again warning the hunters, not only to take out their license, but to always carry them when hunting.

English Pheasants.

The 2,500 English pheasants liberated by the Commission are protected for a number of years, and a warning is hereby given to every one who kills these valuable and costly birds, that if caught, he will be prosecuted. Now, Mr. Hunter, if you see a strange bird do not run your legs off to destroy it, but take every possible means not to injure it yourself, and do not let an opportunity escape you to urge others to do likewise. These pheasants were bought with your money, so see that they are protected until they increase sufficiently to allow shooting.

Conditions in Other States.

In other states where conditions are not as ideal as here they now have pheasants in plenty. It is up to you, Mr. Hunter, to do your part to help the Commission protect them. Get busy. Your warden will be in the field every day during the hunting season and for a considerable time beforehand, to see that each hunter has his license, and that the "Sooner" is curbed in his selfish desire. Please help the warden, remembering that they are working for and not against you. We want to enlist the active cooperation of every man in Kentucky who has a hunting license in protecting his own game from the cheater. We want you to realize that it is you who are being cheated by the game hog, the pot hunter and the chap who hunts out of season without a license.

Our warden are doing effective work. However, the state is large and unless the sportsmen and farmers report the infractions of the hunting laws, either to the warden or to the State Department, some violators are bound to escape.

Hunters Themselves Lose.

What we wish to impress upon the sportsman who takes out his license and obeys the law, is that every violator is cheating him. Those who set about to deplete the game supply unwarrantably, either for gain or through greed, or who hunt out of season, to some extent succeeds in robbing the licensed hunter of the benefits for which he spends his money in purchasing his license.

If the sportsmen can get the idea clearly into their minds that the law is for their protection as well as for the protection of the landowner and the conservation of valuable food supply, and that the violators of game regulations is beyond the law, a cheater against whom every man's hand should be raised, it will not be long until we shall again see the fields and forests full of game and Kentucky affording some of the best field sport in the country.

Now, Mr. Hunter, won't you help by setting a good example and spreading the sentiment for obedience to the law wherever you go? Condemn the unlawful hunter and the pot hunter and try to show him the light. If he does not take kindly to your suggestions, report the violation of the law to the warden in your county and the office of the Commission at Frankfort. Boost the game and thereby make more pleasure for yourself and at the same time increase the value of the license for which you pay. The money you pay for your license is your contribution towards the enforcement of the law and the propagation of game. Get behind your money with your personal influence and conditions are bound to improve.

Lawful to Kill.

Quail, rabbits, squirrels, woodcock, wild duck, wild goose, can be shot from November 15 to January 1.

Unlawful to Ship.

It is unlawful to ship quail, native pheasant, or wild turkey within the State of Kentucky at any time, but these birds, when lawfully killed and in possession of the hunter, may be carried by the hunter, or in the baggage cars, when properly marked.

When shipping rabbits, squirrels, or wild ducks, within or without the state, the package should be plainly marked, giving the contents of the package, and the name and address of the consignor as well as that of the consignee.

It is unlawful to ship any game out of the state, or the hides of fur-bearing animals, without clearly marking the package as above directed. To ship unmarked is in violation of the interstate laws, and is punishable in the federal courts by a heavy fine and imprisonment.

Remember that it is unlawful to ship either within or without the state, by freight, express, parcels post, or any common carrier, any quail, native pheasant, or wild turkey. Now, Mr. Hunter, you will say if approached that you intend to get your license before hunting. It is necessary to purchase your license from the county clerk of the county in which you reside. There will be many hunters in the fields on the opening day, November 15. What would be the condition at your county clerk's office if you waited until November 14 to get your license? There would be congestion. You would stand in line many hours waiting your turn and then possibly go away without it. You had made your arrangements to go hunting early the next morning and would go abroad without your license. Mr. Game Warden would happen along and you would be distressed and embarrassed. Why take a chance?

Boost For It!

"For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried everything that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them, did I find the right treatment. I soon began to improve, and since taking a few bottles of them my digestion is fine." For sale by all dealers. 1-m.

URIC ACID POISON UNDERMINES HEALTH

When uric acid becomes seated in the kidneys, bowels, and blood, these organs begin to decay. Rheuma (not a "cure-all," but a specialist's prescription for all forms of rheumatism only), overcomes this condition. It limbers up the stiffened joints, reduces swellings, and quickly cleans the poison from the diseased organs.

R. E. McRoberts and all druggists sell Rheuma for 50 cents and will return your money if not satisfied. Be sure to get Rheuma trademarked package.

TENNESSEE OFFICIAL WINS LONG FIGHT

J. W. Seaton of Linden, Clerk of the Circuit Court of the Twelfth Judicial District of Tennessee, was for years a sufferer from stomach troubles—in part a result of his confining work. He tried doctor after doctor. He tried medicines without end.

One day he took a dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. He wrote: "Your medicine is the best in the world for any form of stomach trouble. I am glad to say that after taking the full treatment I feel that I am well."

"I had very severe pains in my stomach all the time. One bottle of your medicine did me ten times as much good as all the doctors' medicine that I took for two years. My family physician told me that I would never be any better—today I am well. I have gained twenty-five pounds."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much as whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

We are authorized to announce Miss Jennie Higgins a candidate for County School Superintendent of Garrard County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 1917.

The Stanford turnpike to the Lincoln county line, just completed is a model and is pronounced by competent judges as one of the best roads in the state.
A good coat of oil in the spring would make it a perfect road. The remodeling of this highway was to some extent an experiment by the county judge and his court. The rock was gotten from Mt. Vernon and the work done under the supervision of the county road engineer with the county machinery.
The additional expense of oiling would be small compared with the cost of rebuilding a road as this has been, and should be done in order to complete the experiment. If it is proven that oiling will double the life of a road, then all roads will be oiled in the future before turned over to the public as completed.
Many counties have been oiling the macadam highways each year, and find that it is money well spent. The use of oil by the city of Lancaster for several years upon its streets has proven to be a great preserver of its highways.

Some well built streets in the city which have been oiled for four consecutive years, without any repaving do not show any wear although receiving all the public travel. This observation tends to prove that it will pay to oil roads. The blowing off the dust and bind of macadam roads by rapid going motor vehicles greatly impairs the life of the roads and in our opinion necessitates the use of oil to preserve them and only a few years hence no road will be considered completed, no difference how it is built, unless treated with a coat of road oil. County Judge C. A.
Arnold is on the right track in his effort to raise the standard of road construction in the county. More show can be made by cheap overhauling and patching roads. It may please and satisfy more voters for the time. This has been too much the policy of the past and is partially responsible for the present condition of our highways. The public does not object to the time and expense of procuring good roads but are prone to complain and criticize unless brought immediately convenient to their premises. Of course some must suffer until good roads can be built to cover the main thoroughfares. "Build well as you go" should be a slogan in road construction. The public of this county should co-operate with the county judge in his effort to build lasting roads. Supervision of construction by the state as required by the present law in order for our county to get the benefit of the state aid fund has greatly hampered and retarded the work of our officials this year. This defect will probably be remedied by the General Assembly that meets in January. With the state aid fund in the hands of our county judge next year and the experience of the last two years to aid him we look for a new era in good roads for Garrard county in the future.
Believing that the rapid wear of roads incidental to modern uses require the application of oil to preserve and protect the highways we hope that Judge Arnold and his court will not neglect to make sufficient experiment in oiling the newly constructed highways to give it a fair test.

LEE PERKINS.

Meets With Serious Accident.

Mrs. G. C. Rose of this city was called to Stanford Sunday by the critical condition of her brother Mr. Lee Perkins, who was dangerously hurt by a peculiar accident there last Friday.
His condition is serious and fears are entertained for his recovery. The interior journal says:

"Lee Perkins, a well known young business man of this city, lies in a very critical condition at the home of his mother, Mrs. Belle Perkins on East Main street, with what physicians pronounce a hemorrhage on the brain, caused by a fall the young man sustained late last Friday night. His condition is regarded as so critical that local physicians summoned Dr. Louis Frank, the noted specialist of Louisville, who came in Monday night and made a complete examination of young Perkins, in which he completely sustained the di-agnosis of the local physicians. All regard his condition as dangerous. He has sustained several severe convulsions, in the past 24 hours, and there is no telling just what the outcome may be.

The accident sustained by young Perkins was a most peculiar one, according to the description given of it by those who witnessed it. He had attended a 'possum supper in the room above the store of Tom Pence on Friday night, and at the conclusion of the feast, left with several friends, by the rear door, going down an incline which had been built to roll buggies for storage on the second floor of the building.
It was dark outside, and coming out of the lighted room, the young man is believed to have made a misstep in the dark, which caused him to step off the side of the incline some distance, about five or six feet, instead of on the ground as he anticipated. The fall seemed to stun him, and friends took him across the street to the St. Asaph Hotel and gave him what attention seemed necessary, and the next day he was out on the streets, but was complaining of not feeling well. Mr. Perkins had just entered into a partnership in the insurance business with D. A. Thomas, having bought out the Bromley & Bromley agency. He went to the office and endeavored to assist Mr. Thomas with the details of their new business but the latter saw that Perkins was not at himself so insisted that he go home.
He finally did so, and had to take to his bed at once, becoming unconscious, and delirious. His mother summoned physicians who were unable to find any marks of bruises or injuries upon his body, and were at a loss for some time to understand just what the trouble was. It was manifest, however, that the trouble was with the brain, and they gave him what treatment seemed possible upon that diagnosis. His condition became worse, however, so Dr.
Frank, was called here, and confirmed the local medical men's diagnosis.

Young Perkins is about 25 years of age, and has a great many friends who are deeply pained to learn of his serious condition. He recently sold out the coal business in which he was engaged near the depot, to T. K. Tudor, and was entering upon the insurance business with Mr. Thomas with bright prospects.

BURTON.

Mrs. Bertha Mitchell Burton died at her country home Saturday night after a lingering illness. Day after day had gone up prayers for her recovery, not only from her own family circle, but from every one who knew her. Many were the silent prayers which voiced the sentiment:

"Not here, O death not here.
Is there no other flower for thee to take?
All the world is thine, and for its sake Oh! come not here!"

But alas, "Death loves a shining mark"—and so it came.
In the death of Mrs. Burton the community in which she lived sustained a great loss. She was a true friend and her devotion to those she loved would make a bright chapter in any life.
While she has gone from the scenes, the conflicts, the sorrows and pleasures of life, she will still live in the hearts of those who knew her best. Her retiring nature led her to hide her best qualities from the public gaze, but they were fully revealed in the home life.
She was a kind and loving daughter and sister and her devotion to her husband knew no limit.

"God touched her with His finger, and she slept," the poet wrote. So we may say of her life—"God touched her with His finger and she slept"; but not until a beautiful life was lived, a noble example of patience, fidelity to truth and faith were given. She lived a consecrated Christian life and died a triumphant death.

Mrs. Burton was a daughter of Mr.
Charles Mitchell, of Jessamine Co., who survives her, her mother having died some time ago.

In her young womanhood she gave her heart and life into the keeping of Mr. Robert Burton who in all the twenty years of their married life had been a most devoted husband.

The funeral services were conducted at the country home by Elder F. M.
Tinder after which all that was mortal was tenderly laid to rest in the Lancaster cemetery last Monday afternoon.

Your choice of three grades of coal.

The Womans Club

(Edited By The Womans Club)

The last meeting on the life and work of the noted sculptor, Frederick MacMonnies, led by Mrs. Johnson Price was a delightful one. In fact, each meeting since the first of October has been made interesting by the leaders, each one obtaining all the information on her subject she could get and lending her time and enthusiasm un stintedly.

Mrs. James B. Kinnaird and Mrs.
Emma Higginbotham were each given a bunch of bright red carnations by the club last Friday. These flowers were emblematic of the bright spot they have helped to make in our town by the unselfish labor and thought they have given the park.

Many club members have asked why a mention has not been made in this column of our efficient Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Joan Mount. Miss Mount has won the admiration of all the club members by her conscientious, painstaking work. We sometimes lose sight of what an important office this is, but handling and collecting our finances and writing minutes each week are duties for which we should be grateful and I believe we are.

Our library under the capable management of Mrs. Kauffman continues to grow. Every member of the club is grateful to Miss Dove Harris for Mar-cum's Histories of America. Years ago Miss Harris gave an entertainment in Lancaster the object of which was to start a fund for a library. She cleared fifty dollars, but says she had never thought any library was on a good enough foundation to turn it over until the one started by the Woman's Club.

Kind letters and gracious words from the visitors and delegates at our recent convention make us wish we could have it over and do more for them. Mrs.
Charles Rhodes, President of the Danville Club writes: "I want to thank each member of your club for our club members, for the pleasant day and hospitality." Mrs. Alfred Zembrod, of Lexington writes thanking for the day and complimenting our civic pride and club spirit. Mrs. Will Severance, President of the Stanford Club expressed herself in most appreciative language for her membership. We have not the space to tell our local club women all that has been said and written, but this is enough to show them that their "Loves labor" was not lost.

The Womans Club thanks Miss Fannie Bishop for giving flowers to each merchant for decorating the windows Nov. 6th. Miss Fannie is most liberal with her flowers and takes great pleasure in cooperating in the work of the W. C. T. U. and Womans Club.

The first number of the Kentucky Woman's Journal, official organ of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs has made its appearance, and it fulfills in every respect the hopes of club women in the State, who for six months have been looking forward with interest to the initial issue.

Too much praise can scarcely be given the editor, Mrs. J. M. Dickey, who has labored so faithfully to make it successful. Having served as chairman of the Press Committee of the State Federation for several years, and having been a newspaper correspondent during those years, Mrs. Dickey is well fitted to hold the position of editor which was assigned to her at the last annual meeting of the Federation in Lexington.

The issue contains a communication from the president of the Federation by the ex-president, Mrs. R. H. Lacey.
Mrs. Harry Bishop, of Louisville, has in this issue, presented the needs of the delinquent girl in Kentucky in a forceful and convincing manner. Her sketch is attractively illustrated and should be read by every woman in the State.

The Home Economics, Art and Music Departments of the Federation are each given recognition in the November number of the magazine by articles written by the chairmen of these committees. Mrs. Clarence Martin, Mrs.
A. C. Zemrod and Miss Catherine Cochran.

A poem by Miss Margaret Steele Anderson is included in the initial number, as is also a sketch of the author by Miss Miriam Gaines. This sketch is the first of a series which is entitled,
"The Kentucky Woman in the Field of Letters."

Mrs. W. W. Coffman has written an article on "Why Scott County has a health Superintendent", and Margaret Young Whitlock has in the paper a little poem on "Peace".

Miss Miriam Gaines of the Louisville Evening Post also member of the State Press Committee has a very interesting article in the Saturday issue of October 30th on First Women's Club formed in 1868 and the start of their development as written by Releine Patrick-Fish and taken from the Republic, Rockford, Illinois from which the following extract is taken.

Considering now is the time when all the Women's Clubs are beginning their activities as sketch of the first organizations, how it has multiplied and scattered and on General Federation is pertinent.
The date of the formation of the first club of women is not exactly known, but it is generally regarded the Sorosis of New York City and the New England Women's Club of Massachusetts both organized in 1868 are the earliest. However, Illinois has two clubs friends in Council, at Quincy, organized in 1868, and Jacksonville Sorosis formed in 1868, and Indiana, Michigan and Iowa Clubs have records which precede these organizations. Sorosis of New York organized in 1868 by Mrs.
Jennie C. Crowley, known to her readers as Jennie June was prominent among pioneer clubs. Ninety-seven clubs were asked to convene with Sorosis and on March 20, 1889 delegates from sixty-one of these were present, while six sent letters. The convention brought together women from all parts of the country and it was there that the idea of a federation was introduced.
To this end a committee was named to draft a constitution and present a plan of organization. The first President of this newly organized General Federation was Charlotte Emerson Brown. A Council meeting was held in May of 1891 at Orange, New Jersey when plans were made for the first

Biennial to be held in Chicago in 1892.
The first Biennial found the Federation including 185 clubs in 29 different states and the body of delegates number 297 women. The work presented in the program came to take on a more serious and important tone. Educational problems and philanthropic work being predominant from now on state organization was rapid and the movement spread over the land. The Third Biennial held at Louisville, Kentucky, in 1896 was largely attended and delegates were present from all over the world. In this vast movement more than two million women are enrolled in the General Federation and 8000 clubs are represented.

On Nov. 10th at the Presbyterian church, Stanford, the Womans Club held their first "open session". Mrs.
Severance presided with her usual grace and dignity. The program opened with a delightful solo rendered by Miss Higgins. Origin and Development of the Woman's Club movement was forcibly and ably discussed by Mrs. E. J. Howenstone. "Is the Womans Club worth while?" was answered very positively in the affirmative by Mrs. J. B. Paxton.

"A Town's Need for Clean Amusements" was discussed by Mrs. W. K.
Warner in a convincing, and pleasing manner.
A quartette by Misses Powell and Embry and Messrs Gower and Singleton made a delightful variation.
Dr. Ganfield, President of Center College, gave the address of the evening. After complimenting the Club upon their excellent program, he spoke of what Clubs were doing all over the country—a great and beneficent work.
He then spoke of what a town should be and what it should stand for. A town should be attractive and pleasing in appearance. It should have resources within its self. It should have character, spirit, force. But a town's highest and holiest business should be to make the best environment for the boy and girl to grow into good citizens.
It was a most earnest and thoughtful message. This Club is to be congratulated on having such a delightful "Open session."

LANCASTER BUTTER MAKER

Proven A Thorough Success When It Makes Butter In Two Minutes.

In a private demonstration before about twenty-five of his friends Wednesday afternoon, Mr. R. H. Batson clearly convinced them that he "had found what he was looking for" and wanted and what everyone else would want as soon as its qualities are demonstrated to them. We mean the LANCASTER BUTTER SEPARATOR. It is a perfect little wonder when it comes to making butter. From three quarts of cream, beautiful butter was made in exactly two minutes by the several watches that were being held by the interested spectators. One wonders at its simplicity, there's hardly anything to take care of. You simply rinse it out and pour in the cream. It needs no cover and has none.

You start to turn the crank; you are delightedly surprised at the ease of operation; it's not like work, it doesn't run much harder than a sewing machine. While you are right in the midst of the surprise of its ease of operation, you get an even bigger surprise—before you know it, you are through, the butter has come. We won't attempt to tell you how it does it, but the principles upon which it works are logical and natural.

However, wonderful and simple this Lancaster Butter Separator may seem to us, you can never appreciate what it is until you have had it demonstrated to you. The old saying the "proof of the pudding is the eating" was never more verified, than when we tasted this butter that was made before our very eyes in exactly two minutes, when all present were enthusiastic as to its superiority over any they had ever tasted. You will miss something if you fail to see this wonderful little machine.

"WORDS FAIL ME", SAYS YOUNG LADY

Indiana Girl Tells How She Was Benefited By Tanlac.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 17.—"Words fail me in attempting to describe my gratitude for the benefits I have derived from the use of Tanlac", said Miss Clara Butler, a prominent young woman of Borden, Ind., who is visiting friends in Louisville.

"I have not enjoyed the very best of health for several months," Miss Butler continued. "I was all run down and so nervous that the least excitement made me almost frantic. My digestion also was very poor, and very often I found myself unable to partake of the very lightest liquid foods."

"I am glad that I decided to take Tanlac. The medicine certainly is very fine. I have been benefited in every way and always shall think well of Tanlac."

Tanlac is now obtainable in Lancaster at R. E. McRoberts and at Bryansville at Becker, Ballard and Scotts.

"AUNT" HANNAH POTEET DEAD.

Mrs. Hannah Poteet, aged 93, was found dead in bed at Harrodsburg. She had been in declining health for several years. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Lizzie Poteet, and two sons, W. J. and Frank Poteet. Mrs. Poteet, who was related to the Huffmans of this county, was a splendid, as well as remarkable old lady, and her death is the occasion of much sorrow here and elsewhere. She was in full possession of her mental faculties until a few hours before she died and her sick room is said to have been the most cheerful seen in this section of the state in years. She was prepared for the end and found pleasure in telling those who visited her of the beauty and brilliancy of the home beyond the skies, where there is every reason to believe she now rests.

BOTH PICTURE HOUSES LEASED TO NEW MANAGEMENT.

Rex Theater To Be Closed.

Some surprise was created among the business circles and the patrons of the two moving picture houses, when it was learned that the Rex Theater and Roman's Opera House had been leased to Mr. Green Clay Walker for a term of years, the deal having been made last Monday. Under the terms of the contract Mr. Walker takes over both houses and the Rex Theater is to be closed indefinitely, while the Opera House under the management of Mr. Walker will remain open. The transfer will be made next Monday morning. The public is loath to give up both Mr. Herron and Mr. Romans as each have worked hard to furnish the public with the best pictures that could have been gotten. Mr. Walker however informs a representative of the RECORD that he is aware that the people of Lancaster and Garrard county will be satisfied with nothing but the best class of pictures and that he has already contracted for some "Features" that will please the most fastidious and at a heavy cost to him. These are Paramount pictures and will be shown in a few weeks. "The Exploits of Elaine", which has been running for the past two months to crowded houses at the Rex will be continued at the Opera House, as well as "The Diamond From the Sky", which has proven so popular.

CARD OF APPRECIATION.

To the friends and relatives who came to me and shared with me my sorrow, and did all that human kindness could suggest to help and comfort me, I return heartfelt thanks, and although such devoted love and friendship cannot lift the sad memories that linger around the vacant chair, it brings into view the brightest side of humanity. To all the friends whose sympathy and service were so kindly tendered in our great bereavement, for the song service and the beautiful flowers we desire to extend our thanks, asking Gods richest blessings upon each of you.

GREAT WORK OF KENTUCKY'S FISH AND GAME COMMISSION

COVERS AND STREAMS OF STATE BEING RESTOCKED WITH THE HOPE OF ONCE AGAIN MAKING KEN-TUCKY A SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE

EXECUTIVE AGENT WARD A BUSY MAN

Clubs Are Being Organized In the Different Counties to Promote Interest and Co-Operate With the Commission

When Daniel Boone and his sturdy pioneers came to Kentucky by the Wilderness road they found a land fertile beyond their wildest hopes, abounding with game and fish, upon which they were dependent for food and clothing. In reaching Kentucky, Boone and his followers found that the Indian tribes to the north, south and west had preceded them. To the Kentucky Indians made annual pilgrimages to kill their winter supply of game, which was found in great abundance and of splendid quality. At that time there was game in plenty for all, but the Indians looked with disfavor upon the presence of the white man, realizing that it meant the destruction of their favorite hunting grounds should they be left to occupy the land, so they stubbornly resisted by every possible means the advancement of the foreign hunter.

The Indian did not kill to excess and was determined that his happy hunting ground should not be destroyed. Their stubborn resistance made the name and early history of "Kaintuckee" typical of its Indian name, "Dark and Bloody Ground."

The pioneer, like the Indian, took only of this supply for food and raiment, but with civilization grew the sport of hunting for pleasure, and so wantonly was game destroyed by this class of citizens that thoughtful and representative men soon realized that if game was to be conserved for future generations, it was necessary to enact laws protecting them during the breeding season.

The first game laws in Kentucky, of which there is any record, were passed in 1822, and were for the protection of fish. In fact, most of the early laws were measures for fish protection. At that time all laws in the state upon this subject were local or county laws and remained so until the adoption of the present Constitution. Since that time all laws enacted upon this subject have been state measures, applying alike to each county in the state. To the county authorities were charged the enforcement of measures of this character.

To the average citizen there was little necessity for the enforcement of these measures; in fact, there was so little public sentiment for the enforcement of these laws that they were openly violated without fear of prosecution. To those who gave the subject thought, it was apparent that it was necessary to create a new law and entrusting to and charging others and specially named officers with their enforcement.

A bill was introduced in the 1910 session of the Legislature providing for the creation of a Game and Fish Commission, but was defeated. A similar measure, possibly wider in scope, was introduced in 1912 and enacted into law, which became effective in 1912. This law is found in its entirety in Chapter 35, Acts 1912.

To this Commission and its agents are entrusted the enforcement of the law and the restocking of fields and streams with game and fish. Authority was given to the Commission to appoint wardens throughout the state to enforce the law. Chapter 35, Acts 1912, made no changes in the then existing game laws, except that it provided that all hunters when hunting on their own land or that immediately adjoining their own, with the permission of the owner, should first secure a hunting license, for which they were to pay the County Court Clerk $1. The clerks were allowed to retain 15 cents for each license, directing that the remainder be sent to the Treasurer of the State, to be placed to the credit of the Game and Fish Protection Fund.

The law provided that five thousand ($5,000) dollars should be appropriated for the maintenance of the department during its first year. This sum, however, to be in the nature of a loan, and directed that the Commission should return this sum—or as much thereof as used—to the Treasurer from the sale of the first moneys collected from the sale of hunters' license. Of the $5,000 appropriated, only $420.71 was drawn from the appropriation in the months of June and July, 1912. This amount, and the remainder of the $5,000, was returned to the state in August, 1912. Since that time the Commission has not drawn one cent from the state's funds for the maintenance of the department, and it is specially provided that the state can not give any further financial assistance, and the State Treasurer is directed not to honor any warrants drawn by the Game and Fish Commission unless the money is in the State Treasury to the credit of the Game and Fish Protection Fund. All of this fund must be derived from the sale of hunting license.

During the year 1912 a call for volunteer wardens was made. The Commission agreeing, should their funds be sufficient during the next year, to compensate as many of the wardens as possible, the selections for paid representatives to be made upon the merit system and without regard to political affiliations. The Commission is grateful to the volunteer wardens for their services and is earnestly laboring to develop a paid, competent warden service as rapidly as their funds will permit. The Commission is not now able—nor will it be for some time—to have a paid warden service in each county of the state, but even if this were possible, they could not accomplish the ends that they so earnestly desire until they have the co-operation and support of interested parties and representative citizens, and by this assistance and co-operation is meant, not only their assistance in securing the arrest and conviction of all violators, but by giving out the information in order that the general public might thoroughly know the reasons and necessity for the strict observance of the laws.

THE CONDITIONS EXISTING IN OTHER STATES.

Hunting License.
The resident hunting license law is not a new departure and prevails in every state in the Union, except Maine, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, North Carolina and Mississippi.

Every state in the Union now requires that non-residents have a hunting license, except Arkansas, and there a non-resident is not permitted to hunt except upon his own land. All of the State Game and Fish Commissions throughout the United States and Canada are maintained and operated by funds accruing from the sale of hunters' license, and in each state, as in Kentucky, the property owner is not taxed to maintain a Commission.

HUNGARIAN PARTRIDGES

In May, 1914, we liberated 300 Hungarian partridges; twenty of these birds were sent to each of fifteen counties. The birds seemed to take very kindly to Kentucky, and many scattered broods were reported in the early fall, and in the spring of 1915 some reports were had of these birds. This fall we hope to get a report from the hunters that go afield that will give us definite information.

The work of the Commission has a real economic value. There are 12,365 miles of running streams in Kentucky, which under present conditions produce considerably over one million dollars worth of food fish each year, when figured at 10 cents per pound, which could easily be doubled if the laws of the state be enforced.

In 1912 the game wardens captured and destroyed 1,088 hoop and wing nets, 67 seines and traps, and tore out 32 dams and fall traps. It is estimated that one hoop net will take 1,000 pounds of fish a year, so the 1,088 nets which were taken from less than 500 miles of streams represented 1,088,000 pounds of fish a year.

The United States Government, through its Fisheries Department, have facilities for distributing fish to the various states, but they have refused to plant fish in territory that is not protected, saying it was useless to liberate fish in waters not protected. So those states which had warden service and protected their streams got the bulk of the public distribution. But Kentucky is coming into her own, as shown by the Government reports:

In 1912 there was liberated in Kentucky 2,453,570 live fish.
In 1913 there was liberated in Kentucky 160,497 live fish.
In 1914 there was liberated in Kentucky 12,427,270 live fish.
In 1915 there was liberated in Kentucky 8,702,916 live fish.

The State Commission distributed, in 1914, 8,473 live fish.
In 1915 (this spring) 8,029,083 live fish.

Total number of live fish distributed in Kentucky in 4 years was 31,781,809.

SCARCITY OF QUAIL

In 1911, during the session immediately preceding the creation of the game laws, the Federal Government discovered that large quantities of quail were being sold in the northern and eastern markets, and that these birds had been shipped in violation of the federal laws covering interstate shipments of game.

The Commission firms distributing these birds were all prosecuted, and by tracing the shipments to the firms, the Government officials discovered that great quantities of the quail had come from Kentucky; in fact, 150,000 were shipped out of Kentucky in 1911, 13,700 being shipped from two points in Gallatin county.

All of the parties making illegal shipments were tried in the federal courts of Kentucky and convictions followed in every case. The United States Government knew, in a general way, that shipments were being made from Kentucky, but in this work, as in other branches of the Government, they desired to help only those states who were making an honest endeavor to help themselves.

It was the common practice of the larger hotels and restaurants in Kentucky, before the creation of the Game and Fish Commission, to annually sell large quantities of quail illegally bought and sold. A number of cases were made against one of the leading hotel companies in Kentucky, and we are pleased to say that this illegal practice has been stopped.

Cumberland River, one of Kentucky's great game fish streams, and which the Commission is restocking with pike perch and bass.

PHEASANT DISTRIBUTION

In March, 1915, a distribution of English ringneck pheasants was made by the Commission. These birds were purchased in England and shipped to Philadelphia, where they were received by a representative of the Commission and shipped in crates of fifteen birds, ten hens and five cocks, to each county in the state, where they were received and separated into flocks, two hens and a cock, and these birds were liberated by persons with whom the Commission had made arrangements, on lands controlled by them.

Reports from 73 counties show an increase of 2,656 birds, which indicates a gratifying condition and places the number of these splendid game birds at liberty in Kentucky at something above six thousand. Some of the birds were held in captivity, but in nearly every instance these experiments resulted in failure, but the birds that were turned loose and allowed to rear their own young, in practically every instance produced and raised a covey.

The result of these experiments have so encouraged the Commission that another importation of pheasants is planned, and we hope to liberate three thousand more of these birds in the spring of 1916. The distribution of pheasants aroused great interest, and we received many requests for settings of eggs and purchased 800 from a game dealer in Pennsylvania, which were sent by parcels post to those who had applied. We also shipped 265 from the Kentucky Game Preserve on Pine Mountain, in Bell county.

The reports show that a large percentage of eggs did not hatch, and where broods were hatched they soon died, so the distribution proved a failure.

It is unlawful to kill any ringneck pheasant at any time of the year, and the Commission appeals to you for your assistance in protecting them until they increase sufficiently to permit hunting.

How Katydid Sings its Song.
The sounds made by the katydid are produced by the friction of the taboret (little drums) in the triangular overlapping portion of each wing cover against each other and are strengthened by the escape of air from the sacs of the body. The katydid has been called the "tasty little dogmatist."

FOR HOW LONG

Lancaster Raises A Pertinent Question.

When a neighbor tells us that he has recovered from a serious illness, the first question that naturally arises is, "How long will he keep well?" Temporary relief is one thing, but a lasting cure is altogether different. There is nothing temporary about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills as the following evidence proves beyond a doubt.

George Wright, Hotel Kengarian, Lancaster, says: "I suffered from an aching back. The kidney secretions also bothered me, being irregular, scanty and painful in passage. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at R. E. McRoberts & Son's Drug Store, removed the pains and restored my kidneys to a normal action." (Statement given March 20th, 1908).

OVER THREE YEARS LATER, Mr. Wright said: "I have had no kidney trouble since giving my former recommendation of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Wright had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

MUNICIPAL HOUSECLEANING DAYS.

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 19th and 20th, have been set aside by Mrs. Andrew J. Campbell, Chairman of Civics in the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, as "Municipal Housecleaning Days" for the State.

This is a call to the 24,000 Club women of Kentucky to see that the cities and towns in which they live are cleaned on those days.

Clubs are asked to have the mayors of their cities to issue a proclamation declaring those days "Clean Up Days" urging all citizens to enter into a joint effort to make their city perfect.

Following are some of Mrs. Campbell's suggestions:

1. Take all ashes and trash from your back yard immediately. Send your rubbish to the dumping ground.
2. If the city does not furnish teams suggest to the men owning them that they drive through the streets with a sign, "Clean Up Wagon" on their wagons with a bell calling attention.
3. Burn all rubbish that will burn. Clean your vacant lots and alleys.
4. Make your streets and parking look as trim and well kept as possible.
5. Refrain from throwing rubbish in the streets.
6. Plant grass seed and flower bulbs to make your home as beautiful as possible.
7. If you have unsightly dumps in your back yard, remove them.
8. If your store front is dingy, paint it.
9. Tear down unsightly sheds on your premises; they detract from the beauty of your home and town. Open space and fresh air are better.
10. If your walk is an eye-sore to those traveling over it, repair it or build a new one.
11. Clean out the alleys back of the business houses at once.

By all means do your part to make your town cleaner and more attractive.

FALL CLEAN-UP KILLS INSECTS.

In the war against farm and garden pests a fall clean-up is a good means of attack. Fall plowing is generally recognized as a good method for the prevention of insect injury, but rubbish left in piles along fences, or in fence corners, or in the orchard or kitchen garden, make the best kind of winter quarters for insect pests in various stages. Trash of this kind should be cleared away, preferably by burning, as such burning destroys any insects among the rubbish.

TWO BUSHELS OF APPLES FOR EVERYBODY THIS YEAR.

The crop of apples this year is very close to the country's best record. It is estimated by the Government's exports at about 220,000,000 bushels. The quality as well as the quantity is above the average.

There are apples enough to give every man, woman and child in the United States more than two bushels of good fruit. That means an apple every day for a year and many other for extra occasions. It is a fact that the apple crop is more than half as big as the crop of potatoes.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON DEAD.

Booker T. Washington, foremost teacher and leader of the negro race, died Sunday at his home near the Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, of which he was founder and president. Hardening of the arteries following a nervous breakdown caused death four hours after he arrived from New York.

Although he had been in failing health for several months, his condition became serious only last week while he was in the East. He then realized the end was near, but was determined to make the long trip South. He had said often:

"I was born in the South, have lived all my life in the South and expect to die and be buried in the South."

Washington was born in slavery near Hales Ford, Va., in 1857 or 1858. After the emancipation of his race he moved with his family to West Virginia. He was an ambitious boy and saved his money for an education. When he was able to scrape together sufficient money to pay his stagecoach fare to Hampton, Va., he entered Gen. Armstrong's school for negroes there and worked his way through and academic course, graduating in 1875. Later he became a teacher in the Hampton Institute, where he remained until 1881, when he organized the industrial school for negroes at Tuskegee, to which he devoted his attention during the remaining years of his life.

The institute started in a rented shanty church, and to day it owns 3,500 acres of land in Alabama and has nearly 100 buildings valued at half a million dollars.

MOONLIGHT SCHOOLS COME TO STAY.

Moonlight schools have come to stay until the illiteracy is eradicated in the United States. Kentucky banded better than she imagined when she fostered Cora Wilson Stewart's plan for state wide night school for illiteracy Commission. State after state has gone into the business of wiping out illiteracy wholesale. County after county of our own state is taking place in the ranks of those who are campaigning against this fundamental ignorance. The present campaign planned by the State Literacy Commission and managed by Cora Wilson Stewart, is just rounding out a wonderful cycle of educational revival. I wish the "Movies" could get it all before the people. At a big moonlight school rally in Boyd County, Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Smith, said in an animated address, Mrs. Stewart is a constructive statesman. She is a woman of vision and the woman of Kentucky should be deeply grateful to her for having organized the Women's Forward Movement. Why cannot Kentucky honor her as Illinois has her Jane Adams and Ella Flag Young. A salary of $5,000.00 a year, the salary that Ella Flag Young gets in Chicago would not be too much value set upon the worth of Mrs. Stewart, but in Kentucky in order to get an appropriation she must promise to receive no salary whatever. By the way Mrs. Stewart has prepared a series of readers for adult illiterates. The first of the series recently from the press is called A Country Life Reader. One of the leading educators says Mrs. Stewart has done a remarkable piece of work and the people of Kentucky and the entire South as well as other states owe her a debt of gratitude for the preparation of this excellent reader which is more than a reader and which is so manifestly a labor of love. She ought to make a fortune out of this set of readers if our people can see what I seem to see in the preparation of this fine set of books.

TO MAKE DANDRUFF QUICKLY VANISH.

No one likes dandruff, but to get rid of it you must do more than wash your hair. The cause of dandruff lies not in the hair, but on the scalp and in the hair roots, and just as twice daily you use a germicidal tooth powder or cream to cleanse your teeth of germs, so you should use Parisian Sage twice daily to drive dandruff from your scalp, prevent its return, protect your hair from falling out and nourish its proper growth. Dandruff makes your hair fall out. Parisian Sage makes dandruff fall out and your hair stay in.

A delightfully perfumed hair and scalp treatment easily applied at home, very inexpensive and obtainable from R. E. McRoberts or at any drug or toilet counter.

On Nov. 7, James Baker, an old soldier, died at his home of blood poison, and was buried in the Stringtown burying ground on the 8th. He was 76 years old and served in the Union army during the war. He leaves a wife, one daughter and two sons to mourn his death. They have our sympathy.

D. D. D. In Hospitals; Standard Skin Cure

There many hospital patients, suffering the frightful itch, the raw scorching pain of skin disease, have been comforted to sleep by a soothing fluid washed in by the nurse's hands.

That fluid is the famous D. D. D. prescription for eczema.

THE SUPERVISING NURSE of one of our prominent Catholic institutions (name of nurse and institute on application), writes regarding a patient, "The disease had eaten her eyebrows away. Her nose and lips had become disfigured. Since the use of D. D. D. her eyebrows are growing, her nose and face have assumed their natural expression."

How many eczema sufferers are paying their doctors for regular treatment and are being treated with this same soothing, healing fluid?

DR. GEO. T. RICHARDSON frankly writes "D. D. D. is superior to anything I have ever found. Soft and soothing, yet a powerful agent."

To do the work, D. D. D. prescription must be applied according to directions given in the pamphlet around every bottle. Follow these directions—and see!

All druggists of standing have the famous specific as well as the efficient, D. D. D. Skin Soap.

But we are so confident of the merits of this prescription that we will refund the purchase price of the first full size bottle if it fails to react your case. You are to judge.
